

engineering & materials consultants

Rappoport Associates, Inc., provides exceptional capability in failure analysis, structural design, accident reconstruction, mechanical and electrical engineering, chemistry, metallurgy, materials science, and fire and explosion investigation.

We have provided superior technical support for litigation since 1974, and possess an extraordinarily talented technical team with impeccable academic and industrial credentials, and proven analysis capability. Our team of distinguished scientists and engineers holds advanced degrees from Massachusetts Institute of Technology (M.I.T.) and Stanford University; most have doctorates.

Firm Profile:

Rappoport Associates, Inc. has provided superior scientific and engineering support for litigation since 1974. The firm draws from an exceptional group of associates - most have doctorate degrees from Massachusetts Institute of Technology or Stanford University. Our team has hundreds of publications, numerous patents, lectured worldwide and holds seven world firsts in flight.

Clients:

Our client list includes prominent law firms and insurance companies nationwide as well as Fortune 500 companies.

Education:

All principal team members hold advanced degrees from Massachusetts Institute of Technology or Stanford University. We offer an extraordinarily talented technical group with impeccable academic credentials and proven analysis capability in extreme and unforgiving operating environments.

web: www.rappoport.com phone: 781 862-9001 or 781 259-0119