

Esam Z. Dajani, Ph.D., FACG

1549 RFD, Long Grove, Illinois 60047-9532
Phone: (847) 634-9586; Cell (847) 971-7555
EsamD@comcast.net; Esam.Dajani@Gmail.com
Web site: www.EsamDajani.wordpress.com

- Areas of Expertise: Clinical pharmacology, toxicology, drug development and regulatory affairs (FDA). Professor Dajani provides litigation support and testimony for plaintiff and defense attorneys in the fields of Cytotec®, drug injury causation, drug-related medical malpractice, medication errors, pharmaceutical patent litigations, drug product liability (e.g. warnings, designs, formulations & labeling), adverse effects of health, beauty products and industrial chemicals, forensic aspects of alcohol drug intoxications and Contract Research Organizations (CROs). He provides investigations, research, record analysis, consultation, merit statement, and testimony.
- Professional Experience: Provided biomedical consultation, advice and litigation support since 1993. Forty years' experience in pharmaceutical research and development. Founder and President of IDDC Corporation, a CRO, which provides scientific consulting services for pharmaceutical companies, law firms and governmental agencies. Directed worldwide clinical research and development at major pharmaceutical companies. Led the research teams that discovered and developed misoprostol (Cytotec®). Taught pharmacology and toxicology to medical, dental and pharmacy students. Licensed to practice pharmacy in the State of Alabama.
- Education: B.S. in Pharmacy, University of Missouri at Kansas City.
M.S. in Pharmacology & Medicinal Chemistry, Auburn University.
Ph.D. in Pharmacology & Toxicology, Purdue University.
- Publications/ Presentations: 122 peer-reviewed biomedical articles, book chapters and patents.
130 presentations at national and international biomedical conferences.
- Teaching Experience: Adjunct Professor of Medicine, Loyola University Chicago, 1995-present.
Adjunct Professor of Pharmacology, Chicago Medical School, 1983-1990.
Adjunct Associate Professor of Pharmacology, Northwestern University, 1980-1995.
- Honors: Won the Edgar M. Queen Award (Monsanto Corporation).
Won the Distinguished Alumnus Award from Purdue University.
Won the Albert Nelson Marquis Lifetime Achievement Award.
- Professional Affiliations: American Society of Pharmacology and Experimental Therapeutics.
American College of Gastroenterology (Fellow).
Association for Academic Minority Physicians (President & Board Member).
Chicago Biotech Network (Founder and Board Member).
- Cases/Clients: Plaintiff and Defense.