

Edmund H. Mantell, PhD
Consulting Economist
5 Carthage Lane, Scarsdale
New York 10583 U.S.A.

Phone: (914) 725-4882

Fax: (914) 722-4147

Email: EMantell@pace.edu

Web: www.mantelleconomics.com

Expert Witness Services

- Calculations of the loss of earnings and the loss of fringe benefits in personal injury or wrongful death cases
- Projections of the costs of future care for seriously disabled persons; therapeutic modalities, pharmaceuticals, custodial care, treatment by physicians
- Measurement of damages in commercial litigation including: antitrust, intellectual property, breach of contract and business torts
- Analyses of the value of professional practices, closely-held businesses and retirement benefits in domestic relations litigation
- Testimony on liability and damages in securities litigation and arbitration
- Analyses of the present discounted values of structured settlements

Employment Experience

1980 to Present

Professor of Finance and Economics
Lubin School of Business
Pace University
1 Martine Avenue
White Plains, New York 10606

1975 to 1979

Managing Economist
Strategic Planning Department
IBM World Trade Corporation
World Headquarters
Armonk, New York

1972 to 1975

Financial Officer and Economist
Treasury Department
John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company
Corporate Headquarters
Boston, Massachusetts

Education

- University of Pennsylvania, 1972, Ph.D. in Economics and Finance
- University of Pennsylvania, 1967, M.A. in Economics and Finance
- State University of New York at Oneonta, 1965, B.A. in Economics

Professional Memberships

- American Economic Association
- Financial Management Association
- American Statistical Association