

Aegis Insight

Over 25 Years Providing Statistical and Economic Expert Services

Aegis Insight is a nationwide statistical and economic consulting firm serving clients for more than 25 years. Based in Denver, we have consultants nationwide and serve clients across the country. Our team of experts has a proven track record of providing scientific insight in clear and concise terms, with JDs and PhDs in mathematics, statistics, probability, operations research, accounting and economics. Aegis Insight combines real-world industry and academic experience to solve some of the most challenging analytic problems in litigation. Our areas of expertise include statistics, sampling, criminal probability modeling, surveys, class certification, discrimination, economic damage, and lost earnings. We also provide litigation support to organize and analyze discovery by applying artificial intelligence, machine learning, pattern recognition, web scraping, and program automation tools to minimize labor costs.

Bring us your tired interns, your poorly structured discovery, and your huddled masses of data yearning to be set free and we'll apply our powerful proprietary algorithms to generate the data and analyses you need.
